

DEPARTMENT OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE AND MACHINE LEARNING

Event: Guest Talk

Venue : Tejas Seminar Hall, NHCE

Time : 10 AM to 1 PM

NEW HORIZON
COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

DEPT OF ARTIFICIAL INTELLIGENCE AND MACHINE LEARNING

INSTITUTION'S
INNOVATION
COUNCIL
(Ministry of Education Initiative)

IV SEMESTER STUDENTS

STRATEGIES FOR NEWCOMERS TO NAVIGATE
CORPORATE LIFE
EFFECTIVELY

MS. ANITHA RAJASHEKHAR
Associate Vice President,
JP Morgan, Bengaluru

AT 10:00 AM
8TH MAY, 2024
FALCONRY SEMINAR HALL

Co Convenors
Dr. Sonia Maria D'Souza
Dr. B. Meenakshi Sundaram
Prof. Ramesh Prasath

Head of Department
Dr. N.V.Uma Reddy

Principal
Dr. Manjunatha

An event focusing on effective corporate navigation strategies for newcomers was held on May 8th.

Mrs Anitha Rajashekar, Associate Vice President, a financial leader with over 18+ years of experience! She has built a strong track record of success, working closely with senior executives like CFOs and managing directors. Her experience has grown alongside her responsibilities, making her a valuable asset. She also possesses a strong understanding of financial modelling, controls testing, and statutory compliance, while her excellent communication and collaboration skills allows her to effectively work with senior management and cross-functional teams.

During the presentation, our speaker elaborated on a myriad of techniques crucial for navigating the corporate landscape as newcomers. She emphasized the pivotal role of having a supportive buddy system within the corporate environment, highlighting its significance in easing the transition and fostering professional growth. Additionally, she underscored the power of networking, elucidating how establishing connections can open doors to opportunities and invaluable resources. She stressed the importance of continuous learning, emphasizing that staying abreast of industry trends and acquiring new skills are indispensable for success in the corporate realm.

Drawing a distinction between horizontal and vertical growth, she elucidated how individuals can chart their career paths strategically. Moreover, she delved into the varied work ethics prevalent across different companies, emphasising the importance of understanding and respecting these differences to foster effective collaboration and mutual respect among colleagues.

She shared valuable tips on how to distinguish oneself amidst the corporate crowd, emphasizing the significance of showcasing unique skills and qualities to stand out effectively. She highlighted the importance of discipline in maintaining consistency and professionalism, underscoring how adherence to structured routines can contribute to long-term success in the corporate sphere.

She shed light on the critical nature of the initial three months in a new corporate role, emphasising that this period sets the tone for one's trajectory within the organisation. By offering practical advice on how to navigate this crucial phase, she empowered attendees to make a positive impression and lay a strong foundation for their career journeys.

Moreover, the session was characterised by its interactive nature, allowing participants to engage with the material actively and seek clarification on pertinent topics. This interactive format fostered a dynamic exchange of ideas and experiences, enriching the learning experience for all involved.

Faculty Coordinator

Dr Sonia Maria D'Souza
Dr Meenakshi Sundaram
Prof. Ramesh Prasath

HOD

Dr. Uma Reddy N V